Cross for gallantry at the battle of Colenso.THE PRINCE OF WALES
RETURNS TO LONDON.

The Prince of Wales on his return to London met with a great ovation
all the way to Marlborough House.
During his journey from the continent, while passing through Altona, the Emperor of Germany arrived unexpectedly with the express purpose of greeting the Prince. The German papers regard this as a renewal of evidence of the Emperor's Anglophile sentiments.

THE WAR.

FIGHTING AT DEWETSDORP.

The 8th and 3rd Divisions encountered the enemy at noon yesterday near Dewetsdorp, and fighting occurred until dark. The artillery principally was engaged and two of the enemy's guns were temporarily silenced. The British command the hills for miles round. It is stated the Boer position is strong. Casualties slight.

BOERS ACTIVE ROUND
WEPENER.

News from Maseru 10th inst. says that the Boers are moving freely round Wepener and parties are proceeding in all directions from where the British relief columns are expected. Desultory cannonading and rifle occurred all day, but the besieged were almost silent. Boer reinforcements had arrived.

BY THE MAIL.

(From Home Papers.)

The "Janus."

The Janus, 27-knot destroyer, completed refitting in readiness for commission for the China Station, and left Sheerness on 16th ult. for her machinery trials.

Captain Wolsley.

Captain Wolsley, nephew of the Commander-in-Chief, who has been serving with the Egyptian Army for three years, has been posted to Hounslow for duty with drafts of the City of London Regiment, and will probably leave for South Africa with an early draft.

The "Otter."

The torpedo-boat destroyer Otter is to be commissioned at Devonport on 27th ult. for service on the China Station, and she will be conveyed to Hongkong by the battleship Goliath. A crew of sixty petty officers and seamen were detailed at the Royal Naval Barracks, Keyham, for the destroyer on 12th ult.

Tommy's Paper.

Lord Roberts has had a newspaper started for the education of the troops, and Mr. Rudyard Kipling contributed to the issue on 17th ult. some stirring lines about "Erin's Badge by Law." The Commander-in-Chief has doubtless with some sense of humour requested most of the war correspondents on the spot to form the temporary staff.

Fashionable Marriage.

The Hon. Oliver Howard, third son of the Earl of Carlisle, was married to Miss Muriel Stephenson, daughter of Mr. Russell Stephenson, in All Saints' Church, Ennismore-gardens, on 17th ult. Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise Marchioness of Lorne was present at the wedding, and many other distinguished guests.

Lord Lister.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint Joseph, Lord Lister, F.R.C.S., and Surgeon Extraordinary to Her Majesty, in the room of Sir James Paget, Bart., deceased. The Queen has also been pleased to appoint Frederick Treves, Esq., F.R.C.S., to be one of the Surgeons Extraordinary to Her Majesty.

A Coming Celebration.

June 23rd next will be the centenary of the birth of Lieutenant Waghorn, the pioneer of the overland route to India, the man who in the early years of this century did so much towards the establishment of rapid communication by steam with our great dependency. It is the intention of Messrs. George Wheatley and Co., successors of Waghorn and Co., to mark the event by a public dinner.

Students Pardoned.

The Home Secretary, in response to the petition presented to him, has promptly granted a free pardon to all the defendants recently convicted at Cambridge for complicity in the disturbances which arose out of the students' celebration of the relief of Ladysmith, on the ground that the evidence did not justify a conviction for felony. The news was conveyed in a letter addressed to Mr. W. B. Redfern, J.P., who sent the petition. Needless to say, it was received with the greatest satisfaction in Cambridge.

The Second Malarial Expedition.

The second Malarial Expedition, promoted by the Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine, left Liverpool on 21st ult. in the steamship Olinda, for Old Calabar and South Nigeria. The object of the expedition is study the cause, spread, and the treatment of malaria and tropical diseases generally. The expedition consists of Dr. H. E. Ansell Elliot (Toronto), and Dr. J. E. Dutton. Investigations and experiments will be made in accordance with the mosquito theory of Major Ross.

Nearly Robbed.

The Banque de l'Indo-Chine has had a narrow escape of losing £40,000 through the dishonesty of one of its office messengers. He had been entrusted with the cashing of a cheque at the Banque de France for the above amount, when after a period of one hour he came back with the office showing all the appearances of having sustained a violent assault, and of having been robbed of the full amount he was carrying. Investigation proved that the whole story was a concoction, and he was forthwith arrested. Meanwhile the money has been fully recovered.

The Pacific Cable.

The Canadian Senate on 16th ult. adopted a resolution proposed by Sir Mackenzie Bowell setting forth that "serious delays having occurred in the prosecution of the Pacific cable undertaking through the hostility of the Eastern Extension Company, which is now demanding concessions from Australia that, if granted, will imperil its successful completion, and that any further delay in proceeding with the construction of the cable will be inimical to the interests of the Empire, and strongly deprecates granting further concessions to the Eastern Extension or any other companies."

A Severe Penalty.

From a statement made in a private letter from a trooper in the Composite Regiment of Household Cavalry, it would appear that two privates were recently shot at the Modder River for being asleep while on sentry. Though regrettable, it is clear that iron discipline is necessary on active service, especially where the safety of the whole army is concerned. But the question naturally arises, says a writer, "How is it that if remissness on duty is so severely punished in loyal subjects of the Queen, rebels in Cape Colony are getting off practically scot free?" Surely the leaders at least should have exemplary punishment meted out to them, and those caught red-handed should be shot.

The New Royal Yacht—A Failure.

Those who should be in a position to speak with authority profess to be certain that this new Royal yacht will never go to sea in her present form, or, indeed, as a Royal yacht at all. Many alterations have already been carried out, but it is said at Pembroke that the changes which are to be necessary to make her fit to be sent to sea will completely alter her accommodation as a yacht for the conveyance of the Sovereign. In such a case, however, a good use will be found for her. The present Admiralty yacht Enchantress is obsolete, and too small for the accommodation of "My Lords," and it is surmised that the ex-Royal yacht will be re-named Enchantress, and appropriated to the use of the Lords of the Admiralty.

The Consular Service.

The London Gazette contains the following announcement with respect to the Consular Service in China—

The Queen has been graciously pleased to appoint Mr. Alexander Josia to be Her Majesty's Consul at Kluang, Mr. John Noel Tramm to be Her Majesty's Consul at Nanking, Mr. Charles William Campbell to be Her Majesty's Consul at Wuchow, Mr. Edward Theodore Chalmers Werner to be Her Majesty's Consul at Kiangchow, Mr. Ernest Frederick Bennett to be Her Majesty's Consul at Saumao, Mr. Ambrose John Sundius to be Her Majesty's Consul at Yochow, Mr. George Demetrius Pitypias to be one of Her Majesty's Vice-Consuls at Shanghai, and Mr. William Pollock Ker to be Her Majesty's Vice-Consul at Pagoda Island.

The Burmo-Chinese Frontier.

A telegram from Rangoon states that since the defeat of a body of Chinese brigands by Mr. Hertz's exploring party there has been considerable activity among the subordinate Chinese frontier officials, who threaten to attack the British posts at Sadon and Sima. Strong bodies of military police to reinforce these outposts and 400 sepoy of the 5th Burma Regiment have been sent to Myitkina as a reserve, while the garrisons at Shwabo and Bhamo are ready to move, if necessary. Colonel Peile, Inspector-General of Police, has gone to Myitkina. The Prefect of Momein is apparently endeavouring to check his subordinates. Further opposition from the Was is not anticipated, the recent punishment inflicted by Mr. Scott, the British Commissioner, and General Liu, the Chinese Commissioner, having sobered them. The demarcation of the frontier is proceeding satisfactorily along the Kung-ming-shan range.

Russia and the "Open Door."

The Politische Korrespondenz has received from St. Petersburg an abstract of Russia's answer to the Note of the United States concerning the "open door" in China. With regard to the uniformity of action observed by all the other Powers in the districts leased by China, Russia agrees entirely with all those principles which are far from being an exclusively selfish character. Although the establishment of its administration in the peninsula of Liaoting has cost Russia 50,000,000 roubles, free entry was accorded through the first harbour of Ta-lien-wan to all nations. The Customs limitations, which were fixed at Port Arthur, owed their existence to the special position of that military port. If it should be deemed to be necessary later to bring the whole of the Liaoting Peninsula and the rest of Manchuria within the Customs limitations, then the measures taken would be in accordance with the productions of all countries. It is said that France has returned a similar reply to the American Note in recognising the principle of reciprocity in fixing the Customs duties for all districts, which are in the same position as those mentioned in the Note.

Our Artillery.

Presiding over the annual meeting of Vickers Sons and Maxim Limited, held at Sheffield, Mr. T. E. Vickers referred to the statement made in the House of Commons regarding the alleged superiority of French over British artillery. The comparison of the French 12in. gun was the belief made in regard to the older type of Mark Eight 12in. gun, and not the 12in. Mark Nine Vickers' design. The Vickers' 12in. gun, which was now being placed on board all the new battleships, had a striking energy exceeding that of the French 12in. weapon at 2,000 yards by 44 per cent, and at 4,000 yards by 56 per cent, and at 6,000 yards by 73 per cent. It was not right to compare the power of guns from velocity alone, as the French guns used a shot weighing 64lb., whereas the Vickers' gun fired a projectile 85lb. in weight. The Vickers' gun had been made in a sealed pattern for all guns of 9in. to 12in. calibre for the sea and land services, and the company had arranged a satisfactory royalty with the British Government. At the Paris Exhibition the company, amongst other exhibits, would show a 7½in. gun which, with a velocity of 3,000ft. fired shells weighing 200lb. at the rate of six to seven shells per minute.

The China Squadron.

The Naval Correspondent of the Globe writes:—I am exceedingly glad to learn that the Admiralty have decided to send the first-class cruiser Argonaut to China. With the Terrible there also, we shall make quite a respectable show. I thought it was unlikely that we were only to be represented by the somewhat antiquated second-class cruiser Apollon in place of the Undaunted. The main armament of the Argonaut consists of 16-6in. quick-firing guns, of a length of 45 calibres, her maximum speed is 20½ knots, and her complement is 600. She has 30 Belleville boilers, with economisers in their uptakes.

The Chatham correspondent of the Naval and Military Record writes:—At present attention is concentrated on the battleship Goliath, which has been built and equipped for sea in three years and three months. The estimated cost of the ship is £246,190, but there is reason to believe that this amount has been considerably exceeded in consequence of alterations and of overtime. During the past week she has been painted throughout, and all the water-tight fittings and electric services have been tested to the satisfaction of the officials. On 24th inst. she will be passed into the Fleet Reserve, and on 27th will hoist the pennant for the relief of the Centurion on the China Station. This will be a change for the better, as the latter vessel's displacement is 10,500 tons, whilst that of the Goliath is 12,950 tons, and she carries a more powerful armament than the Centurion.

The Wearing of the Green.

Everywhere in London on 17th ult. the shamrock was to be seen, being worn frequently in significant combination with a rosette of red, white, and blue. The Queen said her Irish soldiers might wear shamrock on St. Patrick's Day, whereupon—for kindly feeling is contagious—the English public exclaimed, "Begorra! We'll wear it, too!" The English public has worn it, and what is the result? To-day Englishmen like Irishmen as never before. Evidence on the point was furnished in every street, omnibus, and railway carriage. In the City and the West-end not to wear shamrock, or analogous bit of green, was the exception. Those who did not sport the favour were not molested, but there was a disposition to feel sorry for them. Very pleasant was it found to have the bunch of green, showing in one's button-hole, and the love of Ireland glowing in one's bosom. Everywhere you met Cockney Tom, Bill, and Harry, gushing about dear old Ireland. Perhaps their warmth of feeling rather astonished themselves. The Queen bids fair to prove a more potent politician than Mr. Gladstone. There was, in addition to this symbolic celebration, a very practical observance of St. Patrick's Day—the annual Exhibition and Sale, organised by the London General Committee of the Irish Industries Association, which was formally opened by the Prince and Princess of Wales at the Mansion House on 16th ult. The opening ceremony on 17th ult. was performed by the Lady Mayers. The articles offered for sale included every variety of Irish lace, embroideries, linens, wools, tweeds, furniture, bric-a-brac, and brass.

work, representing the various local industries of Ireland. In the Colonies the Irish Saint has been equally honoured. In the Catholic churches there were special prayers for the safety of the Irish soldiers in South Africa. From Cape Town we learn that the Irish squadron fell in for drill at Rosenbank, and that badges were presented to the soldiers by ladies. At a banquet held in honour of St. Patrick's Day, the officers of the Royal Irish who recently arrived, were the principal guests. In Dublin the public procession by which the Lord Mayor inaugurates his year of office was held on 17th ult.—for the first time on St. Patrick's Day—and the opposition of the extreme Nationalist section in the city to the attitude of the Lord Mayor in regard to the Queen's approaching visit led to some hostile demonstrations and stone-throwing.

THE FAR EAST IN PARLIAMENT.

Wei-hai-Wei.

(March 19th.) Sir C. Dilke asked the Civil Lord of the Admiralty what had been the Naval expenditure on the Naval depot at Wei-hai-Wei up to the present time, as compared with the Estimates laid before Parliament, and excluding expenditure from Army Votes on engineer and garrison services. Mr. A. Chamberlain: The expenditure for the year 1898-9 was, in round figures, £25,500, of which rather more than £7,000 was spent on dredging, £15,000 on the purchase of land, and the balance on a rifle range, repairs, and various small services. As regards the present year, I am unable to add anything to the information which I gave in the debate on the Naval Estimates on March 2 last.

The "Open Door" in China.

Mr. H. Roberts asked the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs whether he would state whether, in consequence of representations from the American Minister at Peking, the United States Government had decided to send a warship from Manila to the nearest port in China, and whether representations had also been addressed to the British Minister at Peking pointing out that rebellion and anarchy were apprehended in China in consequence of the attitude of the Dowager-Empress to the further extension of the policy of the "open door"; and whether the Government had taken the necessary steps to protect British interests in China, in view of such an outbreak taking place. Mr. Brodick: The answer to the first question is in the negative. Her Majesty's Government have taken, and will continue to take, all necessary steps to protect British interests in China.

British Trade in China.

Mr. Joseph Walton asked the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whether he was aware that British-owned steamers specially built to trade under the agreement with the Chinese Government, which authorised British ships to carry British goods to every river and station, were being taken off the West River in consequence of not being allowed to load or discharge cargo at places between twenty ports; and whether Her Majesty's Government would insist on the carrying out of the agreement as to navigation on inland waterways in its entirety. Mr. Brodick: We have not heard of any British steamers having been taken off the West River in the circumstance referred to. The agreement with the Chinese Government permitted foreigners to trade in steamers where native boats had been permitted. This did not include every river and station. The hon. member will find further information on this subject in the papers which are shortly to be presented.

Mr. J. Walton asked the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs whether he was aware that British-owned cargo steamboats would be placed on the Upper Yangtze next month, and whether the gunboats sent to patrol that portion of the river were suitable for the purpose both as regarded steaming power and construction, and whether he would state to the House what steps Her Majesty's Government proposed to take in fulfilment of their pledge to provide for the protection of British trade. Mr. Brodick: We have heard that one British steamer will be placed on the Upper Yangtze in April or May next. It is not the fact that the gunboats placed on the river have been found unsuitable. An attempt is to be made next month by two of them to make the passage of the rapids between Ichang and Chungking, and the experience thus gained will, doubtless, prove of much value in deciding on the best class of vessel for the navigation of the river.

The Piracy On The West River.

Mr. J. Walton asked the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs whether pirates had attacked with firearms the steam cutter of Her Majesty's ship Tweed on the West River, and whether the Tweed—only steaming two knots against the current, was suitable for the work in which she was engaged; and, if not, whether this gunboat would be replaced by one better adapted to carry out an effective patrol; and whether the commanders of Her Majesty's gunboats stationed on the West River had now been authorised to take whatever steps might be necessary to repress piracy in that district. Mr. Brodick: On Jan. 6 the steam cutter of Her Majesty's ship Tweed chased a Chinese launch which had been seized by pirates, up one of the creeks of the West River, and after an exchange of shots, succeeded in retreating. The launch, two British vessels of higher speed than the Tweed, one being a torpedo-boat, are engaged in the West River. The Commander-in-Chief on the China Station is taking steps for the repression of piracy, and in co-operation with the new Viceroy, Li Hung-chang.—L. D. C. Express.

both seemed as near perfection as possible, but to the soldiers the judgment that "E" Co. were the winners by distance and time caused no surprise.

Prizes ..... 1st $50, and 2nd $25.

RAYONET FIGHTING.

This needs no description. The four champions of "H" Co. and "B" Co. faced each other as shown below, the number of points scored by each man being shown under his name.

"H" Company.
Victory. Williams. Hutton. Simpson.
Bowdage. Jones. Dowell. Cpl. Evans.

"B" Company.

It will be seen that "B" won the greater number of points and so secured the first prize of $16, while "H" had to be contented with second place with $4 thrown in as consolation.

PHYSICAL DRILL.

His Excellency the General had offered a shield to be competed for in this contest and so naturally great interest was shown, this was fully maintained on Saturday as it was not generally known that the winners had already been decided upon last Thursday, when Capt. Berger and The Hon. Trefilis, A.D.C. to the General, had acted as judges. On Saturday a display was given by both "C" Co. under Colour-Sergeant Kelly, and "H" Co. under Colour-Sergeant Murphy, the former being the winners of the shield and $50 and the latter the second prize of $25. These exercises are done with the rifle and demand great staying powers in all muscles. The two teams were so remarkably well matched and did the exercises so splendidly that even old non-coms were quite unable to say which was really the better. "C" Co., having perhaps the greater number of advocates.

MARCHING ORDER.

This was decided by Major Morris in the morning, four men under a non-commissioned officer from each company competing. When soldiers intend to turn out clean and smart they do so, and it would be difficult to find Adjutants used to guard-mounting parades to pick and choose. Consider when $25, the prize is at stake and pity the poor judge; opinions may differ as regards smartness and on minor details, and so it is greatly to the credit of Major's credit the winners were received with rounds of applause, signifying that their comrades were at one in the approval of their officer's choice. "C" Co. were again the happy recipients, thus making three prizes they had captured.

The prizes were distributed by Mrs. Gascoigne at the conclusion of the Exhibition, the General who had taken great interest in all the events speaking a congratulatory word to the prize winners. The Hon. Col. R. H. Burtie, in command of the Regiment, in thanking the General and Mrs. Gascoigne for their attendance, said that the Gascoigne shield would unfortunately not be ready for presentation for another month. He called upon the men to give three cheers and a tiger for Mrs. Gascoigne.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.

CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

(Before Sir John Carrington, Kt., C.M.G., Chief Justice.)
April 23rd.

ALLEGED MURDER.

This morning at the Supreme Court Gheba Khan was arraigned on a charge of the wilful murder of one Gulam Hassan on March 8th in Kowloon. The Hon. Attorney General prosecuted and Mr. Slade (instructed by Messrs Wilkinson and Gird) conducted the defence.

The following gentlemen composed the special jury:—Messrs G. L. Tomlin, G. W. Playfair, B. Layton, E. Osborne, W. H. Gaskell, W. Danby, and R. M. Gray.

The Hon. Attorney General, in opening case for the prosecution, said that both prisoner and deceased Gulam Hassan were soldiers in the Hongkong Regiment. The latter being a Lance Corporal or Nalk and the prisoner a private. Each company in the Regiment is divided into four sections and occupies a block of buildings in which each section has a separate room. The room occupied by the prisoner and the deceased was in the room with the heavy broom in his hand, but did not think he was going to murder the man but only had the broom to clean the floor under his bed. He saw prisoner walk up to deceased's bed with no other weapon except the broom in his hand and look to see if he was asleep. He had had no orders to interfere and so did not even call out for assistance to save life, but sat quietly on his bed smoking while he saw the murder committed, simply because he had no orders and there was a havalir present.

Case adjourned for fifteen.

After fifteen the cross-examination of Allah Ditta was resumed. He said that he was on duty till 1 p.m. on the date of the murder, he was patrolling around the room, with the heavy broom in his hand, but did not think he was going to murder the man but only had the broom to clean the floor under his bed. He saw prisoner walk up to deceased's bed with no other weapon except the broom in his hand and look to see if he was asleep. He had had no orders to interfere and so did not even call out for assistance to save life, but sat quietly on his bed smoking while he saw the murder committed, simply because he had no orders and there was a havalir present.

By His Lordship—He had been in No. 4 section about 34 years. Deceased had been longer in the section than himself. Prisoner had been about 2 years. As far as he knew there had not been any quarrel between deceased and prisoner. Ghulam Hassan was a very good man, witness was not a special favorite of deceased. He had not seen Havalir Gama in the section room before that date.

Juan Khan was the next witness called and gave the same evidence as given at the Magistrate's case proceeding.

case was then expounded briefly by the learned counsel who said that the jury would have to consider the provocation that prisoner received. He was not aware of the defense that would be put forward as it had been reserved. The Magistrate, by the judgment when he was arrested and charged a different complexion to willful murder would be put on the case. The prisoner said that a few days previous to March 8th Gulam Hassan had come to him at 2 o'clock at night and had asked him to commit an indecent act. On the day of the murder deceased had again made overtures to him while he (the prisoner) had a sword and belt in his hand. Deceased then picked up a broom and struck at him and a tussel had ensued. They were separated. The prisoner contended that if he had intended murder he would have used the sword which was in his possession. This statement put the case in very different terms and if this version was correct that there was a quarrel and they were fighting on level terms, then it would be a case of ordinary manslaughter not murder while if prisoner was only defending himself without using any undue violence it would be a case of justifiable homicide. But doubtless his Lordship would inform them of the law on murder. He could not tell whether the defense would call any witness, but one point was certain, that the prisoner did not deny that it was his hand that inflicted the blow. Allah Ditta would tell them that four men were sitting around the fireplace talking at the time of the murder and that their talk was inciting the prisoner to strike the deceased, as he was then without the support of his friends. The prosecution could not call these men as witnesses and would not shut their mouths by placing them in the dock along with prisoner. He was in a very embarrassing position as he could not call upon them to give evidence that would incriminate themselves. It was open for the defense to call them and so he had given instructions to have them in Court, so they would be accessible. There were two other men in the room; they were asleep at the time but one, Allah Din, woke immediately afterwards and saw deceased lying on the bed and being a non-commissioned officer went out to report to an officer.

The Hon. Attorney General read some of the evidence taken at the Magistrate's relating to the arrest of prisoner, and said it seemed clear that the deceased was found lying on his bed with the coverlet drawn properly over him, a very few minutes after the alleged conflict was said to have taken place. He was going to be shot by the police. The indictment that if a conflict had occurred there would not have been time to have carried deceased to his bed and cover him over so carefully as he was found. Deceased's head being found on the pillow, points to the truth of the version that he was struck while lying on his bed and not in a fair fight. No doubt this would be a difficult case and much conflicting evidence would have to be taken and it was their duty to get at the bottom of the matter. There was no doubt that deceased died from a fractured skull and that prisoner caused his death. They must consider the circumstances which might reduce the crime. The indictment allowed them to return either one of three verdicts. Guilty of wilful murder, or of manslaughter, or not guilty, he would endeavor to put the case as fairly and impartially as possible before them for their consideration.

One more point he had to deal with and that was the motive of the crime. It was very difficult to arrive at the genuine motive but doubtless there was some good reason. It might have been the reason ascribed in the statement of it may have been money matters. After again explaining his position as regards the four men before mentioned the Attorney General called his first witness.

Arthur Hasland employed in the Public Works Department, who had made the plan of the room, gave evidence of its correctness and said it was possible to see the bed on which deceased was lying through a window from the verandah, as alleged by Juan Khan.

Mr. Slade cross-examined as regards the actual positions of the beds and windows.

Robert McDonald, a constable, gave evidence of arrest. Allah Ditta was then called and gave the same evidence as reported at the Magistrate. In cross-examination Mr. Slade elicited the fact that witness understood at the time that the four men mentioned above incited the deceased, and saw him walk down the whole length of the room with the heavy broom in his hand, but did not think he was going to murder the man but only had the broom to clean the floor under his bed. He saw prisoner walk up to deceased's bed with no other weapon except the broom in his hand and look to see if he was asleep. He had had no orders to interfere and so did not even call out for assistance to save life, but sat quietly on his bed smoking while he saw the murder committed, simply because he had no orders and there was a havalir present.

He had not seen Havalir Gama in the section room before that date.

Juan Khan was the next witness called and gave the same evidence as given at the Magistrate's case proceeding.

The first witness was Allah Ditta a private in No. 4 section "D" Co. who would state that he saw deceased asleep on his bed and that the blow was struck about 1.40 p.m. with a broom that was kept alongside the fireplace. Deceased did not move after receiving the blow but remained insensible while carried to the hospital, where he died about 5.30 the same day. The jury would have to decide whether his evidence was true; it was corroborated by another private, Juan Khan, who left the room at 1 p.m. to get the ration, returning at 1.40 and while passing the window saw the prisoner hit deceased on the head with a broom. Prisoner then left the room and went away. The Attorney General would show that a man would have to fetch ration and that he would come back along the place from which this witness said he had seen the blow struck.

These were the two witnesses on which the prosecution would rely. The law affecting the

A PYTHON LOOSE ON A GUNBOAT.

An exciting and amusing affair occurred on board H.M.S. Rattler a few days ago, while it lasted, gave the ship's company a lively quarter of an hour. There are two pets on board, a big Borneo orangutan, and the other a fine sample of a python about nineteen or twenty feet in length. This creature, which had dined heartily on a deer about three weeks before, had begun to feel its appetite come back again, and in searching about its box for an exit found a place in the side in bad repair. His snakehood was through that in a twinkling unobserved, and seeing the orang utan, who was chained up a few yards off, invited himself on the spur of the moment to pollack upon that unfortunate quadruman. The python at once coiled for his spring, his mode of saying grace before meat, when suddenly the quarter-master, Dickson, taking all this in a glance, promptly cut poor excited Jack loose, who was up at the mast-head in a brace of shakes. Lieut. Larking, the proprietor of the orang utan, the quarter-master, and another of the crew, who were all on the scene, flung themselves instantly on the hungry python, one at the head, another at the tail, and one in the middle. Then the python began to play, for the python wanted to get one of the aggressors in his coils, cuddled up against something hard, and the others meant to keep him straight, and free from such uncomfortable kinks. For a moment it was the Laocoon group over again, only in this case three men and one snake, and sprawling all over the deck instead of standing upright in classic marble attitudes. But reinforcements arrived in hot haste, and about twenty sturdy blue-jackets, each embracing a foot of python, reduced the reptile to comparative quiescence. The procession marched back to the python's box, coiled him down inside and shut him up. But Jack sat like a cherub aloft at the mast-head for a long time before he came to the conclusion that he was "off" the menu of the day. —S. F. Press.

WAR NEWS BY WIRE.

(From our Exchanges)

The Late Sir Donald Stewart.

LONDON, 31st March.
The Press universally recognises the late Sir Donald Stewart's merits as a soldier and administrator, beneath his manly and modest bearing. His remains were deposited in the English Church at Algiers, with military honours on Tuesday, and transferred to H.M.S. Juno yesterday. Throngs on the Boulevards uncovered in the presence of the cortège, which consisted of several detachments of Chasseurs d'Afrique, Zouaves, Algerians, sailors, and mounted artillery. The funeral car, drawn by six horses, was almost hidden with wreaths and the British and French flags. The immediate escort consisted of British marines, a soldier bearing deceased's decorations. The pall-bearers were three French officers; the Captain and Commander of the Juno, and the Vice-Consul. The mourners included Captain Stewart's many French and English officers, the Consuls and residents. The Zouave Band played the British Anthem, and funeral marches; the troops presented arms; and salutes were fired alternately from the Juno and the garrison guns. The remains were deposited in the main cabin, which has been transformed into a mortuary chamber. General Robert Biddulph is mentioned as Sir Donald Stewart's probable successor in the Field-Marshalship.

The University Sports.

In the University Sports, Oxford won the 100 yards race, the quarter-mile, high and long jumps, the hammer, and putting the weight. Cambridge won the mile, half-mile, three miles, and hurdles. They were handicapped by the breakdown of the 500 yards champion, and of Jones, and the long jump. The two best performances were by Tomlinson's, at the hurdles, and Workman's three miles. It was an excellent meeting, and experts' opinions were more than realised.

The Boat Race.

The Boat Race was one of the hallowed records. From the first stroke Cambridge led. Thereafter, the race was a mere procession, the gap ever widening to the end. There were five lengths between the boats at Hammersmith, nine at Chiswick, 200 yards at Barnes, the winning margin being estimated at twenty lengths. Although outclassed, the Oxonians struggled pluckily throughout, but were exhausted, while the winners apparently scarcely turned a hair. Time, 18 minutes 47 seconds, equals the record, but there was a fast tide and perfect weather.

Russia and Korea.

A Times despatch from Seoul says that M. Pavloff, the Russian Minister, is modifying his original demands, and has asked for a site for a coal depot for the Russian Steamship Company within the treaty limits of Masampo. To this there is no objection, but he also insists upon non-alienation of any portion of the island of Koje-do.

British Revenue.

The British Revenue shows an increase for the quarter of £7,642,801, and for the year £11,899,377.

The General Election.

The Prime Minister, in a long speech just delivered, said that the General Election would not take place until the Government had completed its task in South Africa.

A Benevolent American.

A telegram from New York states that Mr. Klopch, proprietor of the Christian Herald, is chartering a steamer to convey corn to India for the famine-stricken.

The New P.M.G.

It is confirmed that Lord Londonderry succeeds the Duke of Norfolk as Postmaster-General.

The Peace Society.

President Lombard to-day received the British Delegates of the Peace Society. Replying to an Address presented on the manifold common interests of England and France, and regarded war between them as an impossibility.

Plague at Sydney.

Eleven fresh cases of plague and two deaths have occurred at Sydney.

The Indian Famine.

In the House of Commons to-night, Sir W. Wedderburn moved for an enquiry into the causes impeding the capacity of the Indian system to resist famine and plague. He urged an Imperial grant for the same purposes as the Mansion House Fund. Mr. Fowler emphasized the sympathies of Great Britain with the sufferings of India, but deprecated an enquiry. The cause of the famine was the failure of the monsoon. He strongly appealed for an Imperial grant, as an acknowledgement of the generous response of India for the war. Lord George Hamilton said the magnitude of the famine was undoubted, but the mortality was much less than in previous famines; food was cheaper; and the people were fighting the difficulties with courage never shown before. Lord George Hamilton referred to the probable surplus notwithstanding the famine, and thought it was impossible for the Treasury to advance a large sum for charitable purposes. The Government was considering whether advances might not be made to small farmers after the drought was over, and he was communicating with the Viceroy in regard to same. The Government, he said, would continue to develop railways, and push on irrigation and do everything possible to diversify the occupations of the people and promote technical and industrial education. India had put her distress aside and shown her sympathies with the Empire, and we are bound to promise as rapidly as possible the restoration of prosperity and plenty. The motion was rejected by 155 against—votes (14).

Seventy Plague Cases at Sydney.

Altogether there have been seventy cases of plague in Sydney and twenty deaths. The quarantine area has been extended.

The Queen in Ireland.

The Queen has arrived at Kingstown. The squadron saluted, and all the ships were dressed in the roadstead. The heights round Dublin are ablaze to-night with illuminations and bonfires.

Dublin is packed with people who are sleeping in the streets. The Queen insists on every precaution being taken for the public safety. Replying to an address at Holyhead to-day Her Majesty added: "The practical and generous sympathy which all classes have shown to sufferers in the present war has been my great consolation during the suspense and anxiety through which we are passing. May peace soon be restored, and other blessings of Heaven be long continued to my Empire."

The reception Her Majesty received all along the line from London has been most enthusiastic. Crowds besieged the stations through which the express dashed, cheering wildly and singing the National Anthem.

The Queen landed at Dublin to-day, and met with a stately ceremonial. The Lord Mayor presented the keys of the city and the Civic Sword to Her Majesty, who, in reply to the Address of the Corporation, thanked the citizens for their loyal welcome, and said she was deeply gratified to be able to see again the Motherland of those brave sons who had borne themselves in defence of her Crown and Empire with cheerful valour as conspicuous as in the glorious past. Her Majesty's reply was received with acclamations, which were continued unbroken to the Vice-regal Lodge. The weather was brilliant, and the entry altogether was an immense success. The Queen was deeply impressed with the enthusiasm displayed.
